

Tax Credit for Transit Passes

Canada Revenue Agency tells monthly public transit pass holders: Keep your pass!

The Canada Revenue Agency advises transit users to keep their monthly transit passes and receipts if they plan to claim a tax credit for public transit use on their income tax return.

Remember to keep your StAT monthly pass (with your name on the back), along with a dated receipt, cancelled cheque or credit card statement to support the claim.

Additional information on how to claim the tax credit for public transit passes can be obtained from www.transitpass.ca
